

Ambitious and enthusiastic Junior Business Controller

Do you want to develop, learn and transform together with us? Do you thrive in a rapid growing company, do you value having responsibility and contributing within your field? Do you want to be part of an ambitious company where teamwork and dedication are top priorities? Here is an exceptional opportunity to start your career as business controller in a rapidly expanding business.

At Everfuel, we work to make the world a better place by showing the way to a fossil-free future. We work actively for the green energy transition by making green hydrogen commercially attractive both as a sustainable fuel in the transport sector and as a green solution for industry. We are growing, and we are looking for our next Everfueller, who has the motivation and ambition to make the world a better place!

Join us in controlling our finances

As Everfuel's new business controller, you will be a part of the Finance team of 5, and report directly to the CFO and work closely with our Senior controller. We are transforming the team, and your contributions to this process will be valued. Together we will ensure that every day at work will be filled with energy and good laughs.

The position will be perfect for you if you enjoy working in a dynamic and flexible organization and thrive when engaging various stakeholders.

Your tasks will include but not be limited to:

- Controlling and budgeting: You will function as sparring partner and advisor working closely with our CFO, project managers and department heads to ensure continuous follow-up on budgets and financial projections to ensure that they are both realistic and aligned with Everfuel's strategy and ongoing financial forecasting.
- Financial consolidation, analysis and reporting: Together with your colleagues you will prepare and analyze detailed financial reports that provide valuable insights into the company's financial performance at the Group, Department, and project levels.
- Trusted advisor: You act as a trusted advisor to stakeholders across the organization, providing financial insights and challenges that help teams make better, more informed decisions.

"In order to succeed in this job, it is important, that you take responsibility and are strategic thinking. You must work closely with your colleagues and take pride in understanding our business in order act as a trusted advisor and create as much value as possible." says CFO Jesper Ejlersen.

Who are you?

You have a relevant educational background, most likely a bachelor's or master's level. You might have a few years of experience from a similar role. If not, we will teach you.

You are a positive, proactive, solutions-oriented professional with the ability to collaborate with a wide range of stakeholders and create strong working relationships. Structured, detail-oriented with the ability to work independently and prioritize your efforts.

Furthermore, you are proficient communicator in both written and spoken English. We expect you to have strong IT skills in Office365, Excel and power BI.
